Investment risks

For complete information on risks, refer to the legal documents. The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may invest in certain securities listed in China which can involve significant regulatory constraints that may affect the liquidity and/or the investment performance of the fund. The fund invests in a limited number of holdings and is less diversified. This may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund.

Past performance does not predict future returns. Each period starts at the end of the indicated month. The first indicated month may not represent a full month and may start only on the launch/restructuring date indicated in the headline.

The performance data shown does not take account of the commissions and costs incurred on the issue and redemption of units. Performance is net of fees and expenses, as represented by the Ongoing Charges figure for the specific class and are not GIPS compliant. Returns may increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations. The Composite data above represents the unaudited performance of the Invesco Emerging Markets Equity Composite, which inceptioned on 31 December 2007. Past performance of the composite does not predict future performance of the Fund. The investment concerns the acquisition of units in an actively managed fund and not in a given underlying asset.
