Investment risks

For complete information on risks, refer to the legal documents. The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund uses derivatives (complex instruments) for investment purposes, which may result in the fund being significantly leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may hold a large amount of Asset Backed Securities (ABS) (complex instruments) as well as other lower quality debt securities which may impact the liquidity of the fund under certain circumstances. As this fund is invested in a particular sector, you should be prepared to accept greater fluctuations in the value of the fund than for a fund with a broader investment mandate.

Fund Strategy

As an ultrashort duration strategy, the fund seeks to fill the risk/return void between money market and short-term bond funds by looking to achieve a yield and total return in excess of traditional money market funds while targeting a lower risk profile than short-term bond funds. The fund is conservatively managed, investing primarily in high quality, low duration debt instruments, with at least 70% invested in US dollar denominated securities. The fund is not a money market fund, does not utilise leverage, and non-USD exposure is hedged back to USD. The fund's duration will not exceed 18 months.

Past performance does not predict future returns. The performance period shown here starts on the last day of the first indicated month and ends on the last day of the last indicated month.
